Edison Named Finalist in 2017 Stratus Awards by Business Intelligence Group

San Jose, CA—August 17, 2017— Edison Software, the technology company transforming how people communicate, today announced it was named a finalist by Business Intelligence Group in the 2017 Stratus Awards. The Stratus Awards celebrate the companies, products, and people that are offering unique solutions that take advantage of cloud technologies.

The Edison API platform was recognized in the Software as a Service for Small Company (less than 150 employees) category for its success enabling developers to build new, smarter services for their customers.

“We are proud to receive industry recognition that validates the exceptional work done by our platform engineering team that created Edison API,” said Mikael Berner, CEO and Co-founder at Edison.

Edison API offers unique email parsing and classification technology powered by state-of-the-art artificial intelligence. Extract meaningful, actionable data directly from mailboxes to simplify the process of understanding your users and how their preferences are changing in real-time--from the way they travel to the brands they enjoy most.

About Edison Software

Edison Software is transforming the way people communicate with innovative, AI-driven products, including the award-winning Edison Mail and Edison Assistant applications, the Edison Trends dashboard and Edison API. Funded by Mayfield, USVP, Nautilus Venture Partners and Emerillon Capital, Edison is headquartered in San Jose, California.

About Business Intelligence Group

Edison

The Business Intelligence Group was founded with the mission of recognizing true talent and superior performance in the business world. Unlike other industry and business award programs, business executives—those with experience and knowledge—judge the programs. The organization's proprietary and unique scoring system selectively measures performance across multiple business domains and then rewards those companies whose achievements stand above those of their peers.
